

THE AEG INSIDER

Q&A from the 2013 Needs Assessment Survey

The AEG Needs Assessment Team once again thanks everyone who participated in the 2013 on-line survey. The results of the survey and the verbatim comments were turned over to the committees that were formed to implement the recommendations (see related article, this issue). Our survey partner, the Loyalty Research Center, provided us all of the verbatim response comments in an anonymous format. In this and coming issues of the AEG NEWS and the Insider, we will be addressing verbatim questions & comments from the Needs Assessment.

AEG is a good organization. Send me the necessary information by e-mail and I will pay my dues for this year.

We are glad to hear you believe in AEG as much as your peers. You can renew on-line at www.aegweb.org or by contacting Headquarters at aeg@aegweb.org or 303-757-2926. This year's online renewal asked for additional information, such as licenses and education. This information is vital for evaluating programs and services our members need, and we appreciate everyone taking the extra few minutes to complete this information.

I did attend the Reno chapter meeting once and it was good. There is no chapter in Elko, Nevada where I live. That is the primary reason I let my membership lapse.

This is exactly the type of feedback we are looking for. There are several AEG members in the Elko area, including President Gary Luce. If you would be interested in forming a Chapter in Elko, please contact the Section Chapter Support Committee for assistance at www.aegweb.org, as they have many materials readily prepared to help you get a Chapter started.

We also know that there are other members that are not close to a Section Meeting area. If you would like to find other members in your area to meet or start a Chapter, contact AEG or login at www.aegweb.org and click on the member directory to search for members in your area.

Continued advocacy for licensure of geologists.

Good Comment! AEG not only has the Advocacy Committee but also a Licensure Committee. Both Committees are strong advocates for professional geologists, public education and licensure efforts to protect the public health, safety and environment.

The Licensure Committee is seeking members who are interested in monitoring licensure activity for their state and reporting any issues that AEG should be aware of that affect our profession. If you are interested, please contact Ken Neal, Licensure Committee Chair, at KenGNeal@aol.com.
