

Meet Renee Wawczak

Renee started getting involved with the AEG in 2008 at the Section level, right about the same time when she graduated with a bachelor's degree and started working in the industry. She attended her first meeting after her second day at the office. She participated for two years, regularly attending the North Central Section's dinner meetings and field trips that were offered.

After about two years of participation, Renee was approached about the possibility of serving as Section Treasurer. She served in this position for two years, which allowed her to really see how the organization operated in terms of its day-to-day finances. Additionally, since she was the first person to greet attendees at dinner meetings, it also really helped her get to know many of the members and regular participants that she may not have gotten to talk with otherwise.

After two years of serving as Treasurer, Renee was presented with the opportunity with serving as Section Chair, and she is wrapping up her second year in this position. She loved the opportunity to lead the Section and serve on the Board of Directors at the national level. She has such a better understanding of the inner workings of the organization, and the leadership opportunities have helped her grow tremendously as an individual and a professional.

In her spare time, Renee enjoys many activities, but cooking, gardening, traveling, running, reading, music and astronomy all top her list. She also loves playing with her two doxies, Tink and Tank. She is thankful for the opportunities that the AEG has provided, and she looks forward to many additional years of participation with this great organization.
