The Office of English Language Acquisition invites you to attend the

Multiliteracy Symposium

Celebrating the Diverse Linguistic and Cultural Assets of All our Students

Monday, May 6, 2019

8:30 am – 5:00 pm ET

US Department of Education – LBJ Auditorium

400 Maryland Ave SW, Washington, DC 20202

You are invited to join us in exploring this important topic with national leaders in research, practice, and policy who will share their perspectives on why developing language and literacy skills in English plus other languages is critical in today's learning environment.

Featured speakers will include leaders from federal agencies, Congress, educators, parents and students.
