LIVERMORE, Calif. – July 13, 2012 –Topcon Positioning Systems (TPS) announces the “Topcon is Everywhere” photo contest – inviting participants from around the world to share a look at where and how Topcon products are being used.

“Topcon is a global company and our equipment is ‘everywhere’ from high-accuracy monitoring in a large-scale London tunneling project, to mapping flood-affected areas in Australia to leveling a field in South Carolina,” said Scott Langbein, TPS director of product marketing. “Topcon products can be found on the job site, saving time and increasing productivity around the globe and we invite the public to share those photos with cash prizes for the winning entries. The applications and uses may surprise us!”

Information on how to enter, rules and other information can be found at www.topconiseverywhere.com. Submissions may be uploaded to the Facebook pages for Topcon Positioning Systems or Topcon Europe Positioning or emailed to stayconnected@topcon.com. The contest will run through August 15 with the winners announced via Facebook, Twitter and the ‘Topcon is Everywhere’ website on Monday,

August 27.
