

Insurers in the Fortune 500

There are 46 insurers in the Fortune 500 in 2013. Of the 46, there are 11 insurers in the top 100. That's down three from 2012 when 14 insurers were there. One of them is Berkshire Hathaway who moved up the list to number five from number seven. The only companies ahead of Berkshire Hathaway are Wal-Mart and energy firms Exxon Mobil, Chevron and Philips 66.

For insurance companies, UnitedHealth Group leaped five spots from 22 to 17 and Prudential surprised everyone and went from 55 to 29. AIG continues to fall and is 38 — down from 33.

Here's the top 200 on the list with last year's number in parentheses:

5. Berkshire Hathaway (7)
17. UnitedHealth Group (22)
29. Prudential Financial (55)
38. AIG (33)
40. MetLife (34)
44. State Farm (43)
47. Wellpoint (45)
73. Humana (79)
81. Liberty Mutual (84)
84. Aetna (89)
89. New York Life (86)
92. Allstate (93)
94. Mass Mutual (121)
97. TIAA-CREF (88)
100. Nationwide (100)
103. Cigna (130)
112. The Hartford (131)
114. Northwestern Mutual (116)
116. Travelers (112)
118. Aflac (128)
139. USAA (144)
166. Progressive (169)
188. Loews (190)
195. Coventry Health Care (219)
202. Chubb (202)