

Joseph Cordell's latest book now available: 10 Stupidest Mistakes Men Make When Facing Divorce

Each year 500,000 American men will face divorce—and in the process, most of them will make at least one really stupid mistake. At first these missteps might seem inconsequential. They might be as trivial or well-intentioned as "moving out while this gets sorted out," or thinking of "temporary" orders as being truly temporary. But however well-intentioned or insignificant they might seem at the time, these blunders can lose a man his house, his income, or even his kids.

The fact is that most men know next to nothing about what goes into deciding a divorce in a court of law. And it ends up costing them.

THE 10 STUPIDEST MISTAKES MEN MAKE WHEN FACING DIVORCE: And How to Avoid Them (Three Rivers Press Paperback Original, December 7, 2010) is an invaluable and authoritative new guide for men who find themselves trying to navigate a divorce. (Click here to order.)

Every example featured in THE 10 STUPIDEST MISTAKES MEN MAKE WHEN FACING DIVORCE is from an actual case—and every piece of advice has been proven to work time and time again.

With this handbook, you will not only learn about the most common mistakes made by men during a divorce, but also how to avoid them, and how to deal with these errors once they have already been made. Some of the typical mistakes addressed in book include:

No. 1: Moving Out. By moving out before divorce proceedings begin, the man is jeopardizing any chance of joint custody or keeping the house.

No. 5: Neglecting the Children. Saying that you want custody of the children, and then not being there when it is important can make you look disingenuous and will only hurt you.

No. 6: Doing a Sloppy Job on Financial Records. Not having an accurate account of your family's finances can lead to the court taking your soon-to-be-ex's side in financial matters.

Every step of the divorce process, from the first filing to the final settlement, can be influenced to help produce a more favorable outcome.

Men just need to know what mistakes to avoid, what tips to follow, and what really matters in preparing for a divorce.

Drawing from Joseph Cordell's years of professional experience, THE 10 STUPIDEST MISTAKES MEN MAKE WHEN FACING DIVORCE is an invaluable resource for any man who is ready to face his divorce head on and mistake free.
