

Skills Development Program for Aviation and Aerospace Occupations in the Helicopter Industry

Ottawa, Canada

Having many common goals and a desire to work cooperatively on training and skills development The Canadian Council for Aviation & Aerospace and the Helicopter Association of Canada are pleased to announce the signing of a partnership agreement to establish skill development activities for the helicopter industry in Canada. These activities include:

- A 10% discount on CCAA training courses (online and classroom) for HAC members.
- HAC will actively work with CCAA in areas of course development and ongoing refinement
- HAC and CCAA will work together to establish the training needs for HAC Members and a strategy to implement training programs focused on the needs of HAC members

To celebrate the partnership HAC and CCAA have agreed that CCAA will provide one free online Human Factors course to each of its Operator Members and Associates.

For a complete list of CCAA training courses and the schedule of upcoming sessions click here.

For further information on how to become involved with this skill development partnership, please contact:

- Robert Donald, Executive Director, CCAA at rdonald@avaerocouncil.ca or telephone 613-727-8272