

Family Medicine Midwest Conference

Call for Abstracts deadline is May 26; medical student scholarships available

You are invited to attend the Family Medicine Midwest 2015 conference – Celebrating Diversity: Our Patients, Our Communities and Ourselves. This conference is geared for medical students, residents and family medicine faculty, especially relatively new faculty. Mark your calendars for October 9-11, 2015 at the Loews Chicago O'Hare 5300 N River Road Rosemont, IL.

For more information, visit the conference web site: <http://www.iafp.com/family-medicine-midwest-conference>

The online Call for Abstracts is open to physicians, residents, students, healthcare professionals and non-healthcare professionals Click here for the full abstract instructions. The deadline is May 26. Students may submit poster abstracts until June 8. Click here to submit your abstract.

Students are encouraged to apply for a scholarship to attend the conference. Scholarships will cover conference registration and help with travel expenses if you are from out of town. Scholarships are not guaranteed for all students who are accepted as speakers. The scholarship application form is now open online and will close at midnight on August 16th!

Support the student scholarship fund! Family Medicine Midwest provides vital scholarship support for students, including free registration, and financial support towards travel and hotel expenses. For most of our student attendees, these scholarships make it possible for them to attend, and be inspired by an event they would have otherwise missed. Scholarships are tailored to the travel needs of students, depending on the location of their medical school. Students at any allopathic or osteopathic medical school in any of the Family Medicine Midwest 12 states are eligible for scholarships support. Family Medicine Midwest is a 501 (c) 3 so your donation is tax deductible. Link to a donation form here.
