Kansas BRFSS local data available

The 2013 Kansas Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (BRFSS) local data -- county and public health preparedness region-level data are now available on KDHE's interactive website: http://www.kdheks.gov/brfss/BRFSS2013/index.html.

As shown below, if you click on the paper icon next to your county or public health preparedness region, you can download the data with various subpopulation estimates in pdf format. Use these local data resources in planning and evaluating your public health efforts.
