Are you registered? The 11th Annual Working Well Conference is set for August 25, 2015 at the Wichita Hyatt Regency and will bring together top health promotion and human resource/benefits professionals and senior managers to discuss worksite wellness programs. The theme of this year's conference is Wellness Where You Are.

Share this with your office staff who may be interested in attending and learning more about worksite wellness. The conference is an opportunity for businesses and organizations to learn 'best practices' in worksite wellness. Increasing evidence supports the value of workplace wellness programs, and more worksites are implementing health and wellness strategies to reduce injuries, health care costs and long-term disability. With additional benefits, such as reduced absenteeism, higher productivity, less usage of health care benefits and increased morale and loyalty, it's not surprising more employers are choosing to implement workplace wellness programs.
